2. GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Chronic Wasting Disease: Congressman Ron Kind announces he wants the Federal Government for money to help fight CWD. The disease kills White Tail Deer. It was discovered in Wisconsin and threatens the state's deer herd and annual Deer Hunt.

Law Enforcement Week: La Crosse and Onalaska police hold a series of events promoting crime prevention and programs the departments offer to help local citizens take a bite out of crime.

New Bridge: The Wisconsin Department of Transportation and City hold public meetings to talk about plans for a new Mississippi River Bridge. The DOT will begin building a new bridge in 2003. That bridge will be one way traveling east. Traffic on the old Cass Street Bridge will travel west. There are few objections to the plan.

Grant: Wisconsin governor Scott Mc Callum announces a grant to help with cross walk safety at some La Crosse schools.

Exclusive Interview: News 19's Dave Solie has an exclusive interview with Scott Mc Callum. The topic is the governor's plan to phase out shared revenue with cities and towns.

Oak Grove Cemetery: The city unveils renovations made at the arch entering the city's Oak Grove Cemetery. The one hundred year old arch underwent renovation paid for by the city. The rededication happened on Memorial Day.

World Trade Center: La Crosse citizens hold a special local Memorial Day program for the victims of the September 11th tragedy.

Vietnam Wall: A traveling Vietnam War Memorial is displayed in Arcadia, Wisconsin.

Fast Track: Local farmers and union representatives protest outside of Congressman Ron Kind's office. They're protesting the Federal Fast Track trade bill. They say the legislation will hurt Wisconsin Farmers and people who work in manufacturing. They want Kind to vote against the bill.

Barbara Lawton: Barbara Lawton announces her campaign for Attorney General.

India/Pakistan: Tensions mount along the international border and the Bush Administration warns of a possible Nuclear war between the two countries. News 19 interviews UWL exchange students from India and Pakistan about the conflict.

ENVIRONMENT

Chronic Wasting Disease: Two part series on the serious disease which was discovered in the state's deer herd.

Minnesota Wild reports: Weekly feature exploring topics like: The walleye season means mille lacs in northern Minnesota is a busy lake this spring, efforts to monitor and continue to increase the timberwolf population, boating safety in advance of the 4th of July holiday, and local volunteers help make DNR programs all around the state successful.

Mayflies: Pesky bugs which spawn along the Mississippi River every summer. The bugs only live for 24 hours. When they hatch in large numbers they can cause problems for drivers and boaters. This year's hatch is smaller than in the past. The US Fish and Wildlife Service says the lower population means a drop in the water quality along the Mississippi river.

Haze: If you're wondering why the weather has been so hazy lately here's the reason. The National Weather service says the haze is from the smoke created by the wild fires in the Canadian Providence's of Alberta in northern Saskatchewan. The wild fire smoke in conjunction with the high humidity is causing hazy skies.

High Temperatures: High temperatures in June raised the heat index to dangerous levels. The temperatures contributed to air pollution alerts and unhealthy conditions for people with asthma.

WXOW 2nd QUARTER 2002

C. ENVIRONMENT - PSA'S/EVENTS

Event: Mississippi River Clean Up

Date: April 27, 2002

4. EDUCATION

Allergy: Local couple talks about how they fight allergies. The couple both suffer from allergies and fight the problem with daily drops under the tongue. The procedure is being touted as new, but in fact has been practiced in the La Crosse area for more than 20 years. Morris Associates is the doctors office which offers the treatment.

Drug Ad Campaign: Local school districts endorse a statewide Anti-Drug campaign.

Sports Bra: The Wisconsin Independent Athletic Association disqualifies a female track athlete from competition because she wore a multi-colored sports bra. The WIAA has the rule to control outlandish dress by athletes. Most people object to the WIAA's ruling because the girls bra was black and white and quite discreet.

Last Day of School: News 19 covered the last day of school stories at La Crosse, Onalaska, Sparta, West Salem, La Crescent, Holmen and Coon Valley.

Drummer Clinic: Local music store in conjunction with local school districts held a drummers clinic for middle school students.

High School Graduation: News 19 covered High School graduations at all three La Crosse schools, in Onalaska, La Crescent, Holmen and Winona.

College Graduation: News 19 covered UWL, Viterbo, WSU and WWTC graduations.

Holy Trinity: After more than one hundred years of teaching kids Holy Trinity Catholic schools in La Crosse closed its doors. The school fell victim declining enrollment and a budget deficit in the diocese school district. The end of this school year marked the end of a 115 year tradition at the school. The school's closing had many parents asking why after more than one hundred years this school needed to close now. The last day of school was a very emotional day for students parents and staff. La Crosse Mayor John Medinger attended Holy Trinity as a child and was disappointed to see the school close.

Carlucci Resigns. After a rocky two years as president of the coulee region catholic schools John Carlucci resigned. Carlucci called the past two years the most challenging of his career in education. He says one of his toughest decisions was to close Holy Trinity. He said the school had to close in order to solve the catholic district's one million dollar deficit. Parents were surprised by his resignation, but most were not disappointed. Carlucci's acerbic personality and tough decisions made him unpopular with many local Catholic Parents.

529 Plans: La Crosse parents talk about how they are using a 529 savings plan to save for their two children's college education.

Summer School: Hintgen school in the La Crosse District offers a wide variety of summer school programs for students. It use to be that summer school was for dumb kids, but that's all changed and most summer school programs are attended by achieving young scholars.

School Aid: The La Crosse school district looks at ways it can cut costs to balance the district budget. The cuts are necessary because the state is cutting revenue to local districts.

Girls in Science: University of Wisconsin La Crosse offers college level science classes for high school girls. The program is designed to attract young women into science professions. Science is power.

ABC NEWS PROGRAMS – Downtown, Primetime Thursday, 20/20 - Second Quarter, 2002

DOWNTOWN

Wednesday, April 10, 2002

PIRATES

Producer: Frank Snapp; Vivian Hernandez-Ortiz

They attack without warning. Modern-day pirates, preying on the weak and the unwary. From ocean-going tankers to your pleasure craft. Now, the chilling first-hand account of a man who owes his life to a pirate's dull knife: Chris Cuomo with the story of a new breed of pirates—who have only one rule: dead men tell no tales.

N WORD

Producer: Melissa Morgenweck; Support Michael Mendelsohn

It's the word almost too powerful to say. No word has done more harm, or evoked more hatred. Now, can a new generation take away its power, and change its meaning forever? Jami Floyd asks...will it ever really be okay to say the n-word?

CRIBS

Producer: Jim Dubreuil

It's MTV meets Martha Stewart. Where rock renegades live like billionaire bankers. And good music takes a back seat to bad taste. Welcome to cribs—MTV's hip answer to life-styles of the rich and famous. JuJu Chang on the trail of caviar wishes and mac'cheese dreams.

A FATHER AND HIS FURY (RAPIST KILLER)

Producer: Liza Finley; Support Kathie Ritchie

Your daughter says she's been raped...by your best friend. Could you leave it up to the law? He couldn't. A family man transformed into a cold-blooded killer. Bill Ritter asks, was it vigilante justice, or vigilante murder?

Wednesday, April 17, 2002

BLACK WIDOW

Producer: Vicky Samuels; Support Michelle Change, Sally Hawkins

A human leg protruding from a shallow grave. A jet-setting attorney and horseman, dead. The beautiful, mysterious woman he'd married, vanished. His estranged children, terrified. A tantalizing real-life murder mystery ripped from the headlines. John Quinones with the story of the man who loved too much.

SPANGLER

Producer: Sara Koch; Support Sandra Tempko

Everyone pitied poor Bob Spangler. His two kids dead. One wife, a suicide. Another wife killed in a freak fall off the Grand Canyon. Of course, that was before he was indicted—for murdering all of them. Don Dahler with the never-before-seen confession of a serial murderer.

BECHLER BOAT MURDER (2 PARTS)

Producer: Ann Varney; Support Deborah Runcie

A young couple, living the perfect life...until they took a boat trip, and he came back alone. Were his tears real? You decide. There was no trace of his wife, and no evidence against him. But could his sexy new girlfriend help cops crack the case? Jami Floyd with a second look at a haunting mystery at sea.

Wednesday, April 24, 2002

SIN CITY

Downtown travels to Las Vegas and discovers that "Sin City" has begun to go back to what it does best. Vegas' conversion to a family-friendly atmosphere a decade ago was a costly gamble that brought in more tourists, but not necessarily more gambling revenue. Now the leading casinos are reinventing themselves.

PRIMETIME

Thursday, April 4, 2002

LAURA'S REVENGE

Diane Sawyer; Producer Joan Martelli; Support: Marcia Biggs; Edit Vanessa Cochran and Tom Reilly
A beautiful newlywed, desperate for revenge. How far will she go to settle the score? Diane Sawyer uncovers a young woman's daring mission: to take vengeance on the dangerous terrorist who nearly killed her father. Her method? To befriend his family, "deceive them," all in an effort to get to him. But even she could not predict what would happen next. A story with an ending almost impossible to imagine...Laura's revenge.

KIRBY VACUUMS

Chris Wallace; Producer Kim Skeen; Support Camille Elhassani and Michael Pickup; Edit Mike Kravinsky
They are the "Cadillac" of sweepers...and an estimated billion dollars worth are sold each year...exclusively in people's homes. But mounting complaints over the years about Kirby vacuums, and how far Kirby salespeople will go to get consumers to buy them, has Kirby in the hot seat about its sale tactics. Primetime takes our hidden cameras inside the world of door-to-door sales. Chris Wallace investigates just how aggressive some Kirby salespeople can be. Service with a smile or service by force?

ANASTASIA'S STORY (MAIL ORDER BRIDE) – 3 PTS.

Chris Wallace; Greg Fisher; Camille Elhassani; Michael Pickup; Steve Cain; Mike Kravinsky
"We saw a part of a human hand and arm coming out of the ground. And at that point, there was no question that was definitely a body." So begins the tale of Anastasia King, beautiful blonde Russian teen, who, in a hurry to make something better of her life and fueled by fantasies of America, left family, friends, and native homeland Kyrgystan to travel 9-thousand miles to Seattle and into the arms of Indle King. Twice her age, almost 300 pounds, and already divorced from another young Russian found through the personal ads, Indle was far from mail-order bride Anastasia's Rhett Butler dream. Physical abuse, lies about his job, and mounting sexual demands from his "princess," later forced Anastasia to flee back to her parents. Indle followed...the two left together...and Anastasia was never seen alive again. Allegations flew...implicated were Indle and his tenant, Dan Larson, convicted sex offender who would eventually admit to strangling Anastasia with a necktie but kept changing the tale. Shifting stories and lack of physical evidence-- there was no body -- mystified police until 62 days after Anastasia's disappearance when officers searching an Indian Reservation garbage dump found her remains. The missing person case turned homicide and the mail order bride's final moments Seattle's baffling drama. Tonight, Chris Wallace and the grisly murder mystery Anastasia would help solve...from the grave.

A WORLD OF WORDS (HYPERLEXIA) – 1 PT.

Dr. Nancy Snyderman; Kate Harrington; Jean Lipton; Tanya Henderson; Neil Sass
Lots of children are fascinated by cars. But how many three-year-olds focus on their raised lettering and license plates...with an intensity that stymies parents and leaves health professionals dumbfounded? Enter of the world of Hyperlexia. It literally means 'excessive reading'...and is a syndrome so rare no one is quite sure how many children it affects. Mostly boys, and its symptoms are manifest in a premature and total absorption with letters, numbers, shapes, and symbols. The way another child might cuddle a teddy bear, these kids cuddle books...texts that puzzle college students children with Hyperlexia skim with ease. Sounds like a gift right? Proud parents theirs must be? Not exactly, discovers Dr. Nancy Snyderman... Compared to autism, children with Hyperlexia suffer significant delays in speaking and relating to other people. Their brains are wired, but basic social interaction proves an uphill battle specialists struggle to coach. Encounter these unusual geniuses...and learn from their loved ones what daily life with Hyperlexia is like...tonight on Primetime.

ROSIE PROMO...

Coming up next week...Rosie O'Donnell revisited...this time her book! In her memoir entitled FIND ME, Rosie reveals her compelling obsession to save a desperately needy 14-year-old girl...a girl who ends up saving her...and who, in a strange twist of fate, shocks Rosie with her surprising identity. Diane Sawyer and Rosie next week...

ROSIE'S SEARCH (Rosie Book) - 2 parts

Diane Sawyer

Producer: Kristen Strand

Support: Kate Sheekey; LaNeice Collins; Lisa Ort; Marcia Biggs; Faith Jones; Ed Delgado

"I'm a constant contradiction." You met her five weeks ago on our two-hour Primetime Special Event: Rosie O'Donnell For the Sake of the Children. An intimate portrait with Diane Sawyer that will leave you breathless... It's a night and day departure from their last meeting March 7th. Her new book Find Me recently published, Rosie delves into the dynamics that have shaped this powerhouse entertainer...her mother's death, a searing experience with child abuse, body image, falling in love with a man--and then a woman, her current partner, Kelli Carpenter. Moving on, the strong female performers that made Rosie who she is today, bringing up two sons, and most shocking of all--Rosie's rescue intervention to save a woman whose unbelievable identity you would never guess--but who teaches Rosie an important lesson: that sometimes the person you're trying to save ends up saving you. No easy task to package Rosie's life, nor will it be to wrap up her talkshow...which airs for the last time in six weeks. Complexity that might have broken a less resilient person has not Rosie, who is able to claim at the end of the day that an "integrated, central Rosie was always present...the invincible I, the pillar." A story of suffering and strength, humor, love and salvation.

PRIMETIME INVESTIGATION (Check Washing) - 1 part

Chris Wallace

Producer: David Puente

Support: Kathy Ritchie

Have you ever heard of check washing? Patricia Read of Miami hadn't, until she became a victim--one day noticing four checks on her bank statement that came back had clearly been altered--with amounts she hadn't intended to pay written in her name. Check washing: it's a cross-country scam that authorities estimate constitutes a $815 million-dollar operation. Primetime got an inside look at how the scam works. The first step is getting the checks--by stealing people's mail, using simple--and more ingenious methods--including mousetraps! Are we dropping important envelopes in the mailbox too trustingly? Signing more than our dollars away? An encore presentation.

ROSIE ADOPTION (Rosie Adoption) - 1 part

Diane Sawyer

Producer: Catherine Upin

Support: Vanessa Cochran

Checking in again with Rosie...what has happened in the last five weeks since she went on camera and told the nation about being a gay parent, the state of foster care and gay adoption, and the Florida family at the center of our tale--the Loftons? Important updates since our last Rosie show.

A PRIMETIME PREVIEW

Coming up on next week's Primetime...up-close and personal with two American families...an unnerving look at the raw emotions and battles that go on behind closed doors. We took 5 cameras, shot 300 hours of tape and returned with footage guaranteed to shock you. Next week, Jay Schadler and Screaming Parents.

PRIVATE LIVES -- SCREAMING PARENTS -- Screaming Parents -- 3 parts

Correspondent: Jay Schadler

Producer: Jackie Payson

Support: James Wang, Sandra Temko, Christy Tobin

Seemingly perfect, happy families...and what goes on behind their closed doors. The high-pitched screaming, endless bickering without resolution, and verging-on-violent fights that leave one or more party asking "why put up with this?" Either for love, or simply from fear of being alone, the private lives of some American families.

UNDER WRAPS – ROBERT BLAKE – 1 part

Correspondent: John Quinones

Producer: Harry Phillips

Support: Iman Hobbs, Erin Laurence, Emily Holland

Robert Blake, child star-turned Baretta hero—under suspicion from the beginning for his potential involvement in Hollywood's biggest scandal in ages—the murder of his wife, Bonnie Bakley. Blake is now formally charged with the murder, pleads innocent, but his testimony is weak thanks to admissions from stunt actors Blake worked with who say he hired them as hitmen. Back in court next week, a California judge will set a date for a preliminary hearing to determine whether Blake will go behind bars.

A MIND GAME – MULTIPLE PERSONALITY DISORDER – 5 parts

Correspondent: Diane Sawyer

Producer: Tom Berman

Support: Valerie Parker, Eric Strauss

Primal fear...a Primetime Special Edition with Diane Sawyer. Psychiatrists show us a man suffering from Multiple Personality Disorder – literally, one person switching from one personality to another and claiming to be someone else. Strange behavior under any conditions, but in this case the man is a convict, imprisoned for a murder he claims he knows nothing about...but one which the “other” personality does remember. This man avoided the death penalty when doctors testified he had multiple personality disorder...but this man is facing a death sentence of his own...unless a jury believes he too has multiple personalities...With the defendant saying no more than that in court, it is up to us to decide.

BEAUTY MARKS -- SPAS - 2 parts

Correspondent: Cynthia McFadden

Producer: Ann Sorkowitz

Support: Sylvia Johnson, Shalini Sharma, Logan Nakyanzi

Health spas...day escapes into the lap of luxury...refuge of millions of American women, who last year alone spent over nine billion dollars to be massaged, rubbed, poked and pummeled, cleansed, creamed, and steamed. A wild growth in spas has opened doors up to a wide range of services involving enigmatic treatments and exotic foods - truffles and caviar, not to eat of course - but decadent delicacies “to apply.” Cynthia McFadden checks in to a day spa and finds that complicated treatments don't often deliver what they promise...but are in fact pseudo-scientific gibberish catering towards an unwitting, pleasure-seeking populace. Then Primetime hidden cameras take a look at a harrowing process...the millions of men and women enter spas to be zapped with lasers. It's a cosmetic procedure to remove hair from places you don't want it...but you may not realize how dangerous -- scarring even -- it can be. Lasers in the wrong hands and the resulting “beauty marks.”

STAND BY ME -- FRIENDS WITH A MURDERESS - 2 parts

Correspondent: Chris Cuomo

Producer: Clem Taylor

Support: Eric Strauss

An extraordinary friendship and a dark secret, that when finally emerged, would lead to unspeakable horror...as one friend began to change, forcing her comrade to adapt...and redefine just how far the bounds of friendship go. This is the story of Charlotte Corash and Kathy Hagen, two women who met in 1982, shared the same interests and became instant friends. But while one would embark on a brilliant, over-achieving medical career and plummet into debilitating psychosis, the other would witness her demise -- so great -- most would abandon the situation for other, more “normal” companions. Chris Cuomo tells a story that will leave you unable to think about friendship in the same way again.

SECRETS OF THE HEART -- DNA PATERNITY -- 3 pts.

Correspondent: John Quinones

Producer: David Perozzi

Support: Iman Hobbs

An encore performance of the genetic drama DNA Paternity. John Quinones sits with couples and watches as they receive their always long-awaited--and almost always heart-wrenching news--a scientific yes or no that determines who the father of their child really is. Not only emotionally turbulent, these tests stir up a bevy of legal and monetary issues. Should a father pay child support for a son or daughter who's not genetically his? Even if he's played "father figure" all along? How accurate are the tests...and what are the psychological costs--is it better simply not to know?

LOST IN SPACE -- GPS PAROLEES - 1 part

Correspondent: Cynthia McFadden

Producer: Rick Nelson

Support: Inga Skipplings

When a foolproof system fails...dangerously. Global Positioning Technology (GPS) -what the military uses to guide 'smart' bombs to their targets--a practically fool-proof system which Florida and Texas jails began implementing to keep tabs on their hardcore criminals who were out on parole--convicts and rapists with extremely violent pasts...to make sure they stayed away--far, far away--from sources of temptation: schools and playgrounds. To see how hard is it to beat this system of ankle bracelets that track "electronic footprints" via satellite surveillance, Primetime enlisted the company that makes the technology, fitting Cynthia McFadden with the apparatus and setting up her profile--certain "exclusion zones" she could not enter for fear of being beeped as "out-of-bounds." It worked. What didn't was Texas parole officers' accountability--when at least a dozen hardened criminals wracked up more than 100 violations while on GPS supervision--and an actual abduction occurred--but criminals had their arrest warrants withdrawn and remained on the street... Was it a "policy decision" or a matter of pride? Primetime investigated.

BABY, OH BABY -- Dilley's Sixpack -- 90 minutes, 8 parts

Correspondent: Diane Sawyer

Producer: Judy Tygard

Support: Jason Potts, Donna Hunter, Sandra Temko, Jenn Lew, Ben Ehrlich, LaNeice Collins, Ed Delgado, Faith Jones, Jack Pyle Sharon Kaufman, Anad Kamalakar

A 90-minute Primetime Special Event. America's favorite six-pack, the Dilley's, are back, about to turn nine, and we've been there every step of the way...from their historic birth as America's first sextuplets to the rollercoaster ride of bringing up bab(ies)...to the diaper demands and bottle bills, their first day of kindergarten, and a terrifying illness that kept the Dilley family holding their breath. Diane Sawyer and the Dilley sextuplets -- six individuals --Adrian, Claire, Keith, Julian, Becki and Ian -- six hearts and six different plans. A chronicle of the nearly-a-decade lives of six incredible kids so startlingly different and heart-warmingly spirited, they take on Primetime like never before.

BACK ON TRACK

Chris Cuomo; Dennis O'Brien; Jim DuBreuil;

James Wang; Gina Pampinella; Jack Pyle; Ed Delgado; Faith Jones

Whatever it takes, a child's last chance. Chris Cuomo and a Primetime special event. 21 days deep in the wilderness on a last chance trail for teens with Mario, Melissa and Kyle -- three tough kids on a dangerous, downward spiral...teens whose desperate parents have tried everything to get them back on the straight and narrow, but nothing seems to work. The solution? Get them out of the life they know-- the woods of dark impulses -- and into the real one...a wilderness of hardcore survival. The trip begins with a strip search for drugs and weapons. Then three weeks of trailblazing and solo challenges...to get rid of the anger, the hatred and crime. It's a state-sponsored program and some teens' last hope, but the costs to families aren't always apparent.

STACEY'S STORY (Stacey Lannert) - 2 parts

Cynthia McFadden; Jude Dratt; Jenn Lew; Jason Rovou; Ben Ehrlich

A murder mystery where nothing is as it seems. 30-year-old Stacey Lannert has been an inmate for 12 years...the court says she will remain so for the rest of her life. And the charge is one she freely admits to - killing her father in cold blood - earning a count of first-degree murder. Hear why Stacey's jurors - even the judge who delivered the sentence -- now question the punishment they levied, and why one investigator is championing Stacey's cause in hopes of alleviating her sentence. It's what the jury didn't know that astounds you...the cruelty behind the closed doors in the Lannert household and a history of torment that finally pushed Stacey over the edge.

NIKKI TAYLOR - 2 parts

Charlie Gibson; Jackie Payson; Eric Strauss; Catherine Upin

She's America's glamour girl -- the beauty who had it all -- fashion, money and fame. But when a car accident 13 months ago left supermodel Nikki Taylor struggling to hold on, with only a 1 in 10 chance of survival, her fate seemed more than uncertain. Since we first brought you her story last fall, Nikki has undergone more corrective surgery and still hopes to be back in front of the camera one day, thanks to hard work and the support of her two sons.

SUM OF ALL FEARS (Ben Affleck) -- 1 part

Diane Sawyer; Jackie Payson; Chris Orchard; Gina Pampinella

In a jumpy day and age when terrorist plots threaten daily, a controversial new film -- shot before September 11th -- is opening that tries and make the sum of all fears seem for many, a little too real. Diane Sawyer sits down with star Ben Affleck to discuss.

OBSITY

Correspondent: Deborah Roberts; Producer: Liza Finley

Deborah Roberts reports. A family and their friends had their stomachs stapled. Veronica Roselli started the trend. She was once obese and started the trend of stomach stapling amongst her family and friends. She went from 230 pounds to 135 pounds. Veronica's mother, aunt, uncle, caterer and friend all followed suit. They lost 800 pounds between them. The once radical surgery is becoming a lifesaver for the obese.

DR. HENRY LEE

Correspondent: John Miller; Producer: Terri Lichstein

John Miller reports. Dr. Henry Lee is the country's premier crime scene investigator. He has worked over 6000 cases over 40 years including O.J. Simpson, Jon Benet, Vince Foster and the Kennedy rape. He has developed many techniques to discover evidence. He even went as far as to bury bodies in his own backyard to learn how they decompose. He says evidence is like history, if you don't read it you miss it.

FATHER GOOSE II

Correspondent: Bob Murphy; Producer:

Bob Brown reports. The sequel to our report about Father Goose. Dr. William Slaten is teaching orphan geese how to fly. He puts them in a cage and hangs them on a flagpole to get them used to the view. He then leads them from a hot air balloon in the hopes they will learn the trip by watching the scenery. The geese are taken to a release site and released near a large group of geese.

GMAB-GRADE INFLATION

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Frank Mastropolo

John Stossel reports. John says that Grade Inflation is a very bad thing for students. It is dramatic in the modern day and high marks mean nothing anymore. John speaks to some students at Harvard University. They say they are getting what they deserve, they are smarter than other students. John Stossel says "Give Me A Break."

ECSTASY DEATH

Correspondent: Deborah Roberts; Producer: Marc Dorian

Deborah Roberts reports. Brandy French begged her father to allow her to attend a day long rock concert. Don French normally a strict parent initially refused but later conceded since she would be with older friends. Brandy and her friends took ecstasy. When Brandy's reaction turned from happy to vomiting, her friends and some parents tried to nurse her through it. When they finally decided to take her to the hospital, it was too late. She died in the driveway of a friend's house.

FAKE NAILS

Correspondent: Arnold Diaz; Producer: Audrey Latman

Arnold Diaz reports. Many nail salons are using a chemical called Methelmacrarate (MMA). The adhesive is strong but can cause damage and allergy. The FDA has been warning that MMA is highly dangerous. Many salons deny using it, Arnold Diaz proved otherwise.

Josh Groban

Correspondent: Bob Brown; Producer: Joe Pfifferling

Bob Brown reports. Josh Groban is a 21 year-old with a voice that will knock you off of your feet. After an appearance on Ally McBeal, he jumped up on the internet charts. There is no doubt he will continue to grow as a performer. He is young, charming, talented and unassuming.

GMAB-TAXES

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Kristy Kendall

John Stossel reports. The process of paying taxes is worse than the fees. Calling the IRS information system is hard to understand and designed poorly. There has to be a better way! John Stossel says "Give Me A Break!"

PETTY NEIGHBORS

Correspondent: Arnold Diaz; Producer: Bonnie Vangilder

Over 50 million people live in areas where the homeowner's association take things to the extreme. One man is being sued because of his lamp post, one because of his flagpole. In some states a homeowner's association can take away the home of citizens. Arnold Diaz reports on what happens when homeowner's associations take rules to the extreme.

PILL CAMERA

Correspondent: Dr. Tim; Producer: Steve Schnee

Dr. Tim reports. The pill camera is not much bigger than a large capsule and can travel through the body. Dr. Blair Lewis is one of the first people to test the tiny pill camera. The camera can go where fiber optics can't and transmits to a pack that records the images taken by camera. In using the pill camera, Dr. Lewis has been able to find 60-70% of medical problems that could not be detected otherwise.

INTERSEX

Correspondent: Lynn Sherr; Producer: Erin Biddle

Hermaphrodites or intersexuals are babies born with "ambiguous genitalia" – neither male nor female. There is an operation that can correct this problem. Heda Veloria is an intersexual. She has a larger clitoris than normal. She considers herself a lesbian and does not want the operation. She is happy with her life!

GMAB-CEO PACKAGES

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Mark Golden

John Stossel reports. When a company flounders, employees should not suffer. Yet many CEO's seem to make out on the deal. They often get paid a lot more in the bad times than in the good. Bernie Evans, of WorldCom, was given $10 million dollars for staying with the sinking company. John Stossel says "Give Me A Break!"

SAVING MARRIAGE FROM KIDS

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Penny Fleming

John Stossel reports. 20/20 places a camera inside the house of two different couples who they feel they have grown apart due to having children. Both couples (Kathy and Greg and Mare and Joe) rarely have sex and have to make an appointment with each other. Family therapist William Dougherty was brought in to assist. Dougherty says it's about ownership! The children own the parents and it has to stop! One of the dangers of putting your marriage on hold until your children grow is that somebody may decide this is not what life is about for them!

MAFIA BABY

Correspondent: John Miller; Producer: Claudia Kist

John Miller reports. Kevin Granado is a prisoner due to committing a series of mob-related crimes. The facility he is living in does not allow conjugal visits. However, two and a half years ago Mrs. Granado paid him a visit and somehow smuggled out a sperm sample in a cancer kit used to store tissue. Apparently Kevin managed to save a sample in either saran wrap or a plastic baggy. Regina was inseminated at her doctor's office and they now have a daughter. As a result, Kevin was put in solitary confinement for 23 and a half hours.

VATICAN

Correspondent: Brian Ross; Producer: Rhonda Schwartz

Brian Ross reports. Father Marciel Maciel is one of Pope John Paul II's closest advisers, despite repeated allegations he was a longtime pedophile. He allegedly molested several boys when he was the leader of a Catholic order that recruited young boys to study and become priests. Eight former students, now in their 60's have signed sworn affidavits that they were molested by Maciel. Some of the boys had complained before but were ignored.

BLAKE DAUGHTER

Correspondent: Barbara Walters; Producer: Martin Clancy

Barbara Walters interviews Robert Blake's older daughter Delina Blake, a 35-year-old psychology professor. Delina believes her father is innocent. She claims he is very dyslexic and leaves things everywhere which would explain him leaving his gun in the restaurant the night his wife Bonnie was killed. Delina claims Blake is a good guy and wants her to have temporary custody of her half-sister

FOSTER KIDS

Correspondent: Brian Ross; Producer: Rhonda Schwartz

Brian Ross reports. Six children were placed in an unfit and abusive foster home. Jacqueline Lynch collected some $150,000 as a foster mother. Meanwhile, the children were treated like animals. Isolated in a room every day from the time they returned home from school until bedtime. They were subject to beatings and sadistic punishment. Regardless of allegations of the abuse, Jacqueline was allowed to keep the children for five years. Finally the police took them away from Jacqueline. All six children have been adopted by a loving couple Kathy and Rod Rodriquez.

PAYOLA

Correspondent: Arnold Diaz ; Producer: Audrey Latman

Arnold Diaz reports. Ever question why the same songs are constantly repeated on the radio? As "20/20" discovered, the radio airplay industry is largely about what companies pay the most to have their client's record played. The law states that a radio station cannot receive money directly from a record company. However, if the money is given to them by an independent promoter hired by the record company, they can accept it. For now, it appears that musicians with little or no backing have little or no chance of getting played on the radio.

FIREHOUSE

Correspondent: John Miller; Producer: Steve Schnee

John Miller reports. On September 11th, 13 firemen of Engine 40, Ladder 35 were sent to the World Trade Center to assist after the attacks. Only one of 13 made it out alive. "20/20" with the help of coworkers and wives, profiles the 12 firemen that died. A book entitled "Firehouse" has been written honor of the 12 firemen by David Halberstam.

GMAB-BANKRUPTCY - REPEAT

Correspondent: John Stossel; Producer: Frank Mastropolo

John Stossel says that homestead laws are helping the rich. It seems that people who owe large amounts of money can still live in grand style! How is that possible? It's possible because of the Unlimited Homestead Exemption. The Unlimited Homestead Exemption is a law that was passed in six states, including Florida and Texas. The law states that anyone who declares bankruptcy still gets to keep their house, no matter how lavish it is. John Stossel says "Give Me A Break!"
